Of all kinds of brick and stone work Prices on application.

HANCOCK MICH.

FOR SALE!

THE MICHIGAN HOUSE, Corner of Cak and Sixth Streets, Red Jacket Lot 23 and 24, block 13, Calumet, known as he George's property on Lake Linden road. Lots 1 and 2, block 9, Tamarack City.

Also improved and unimproved Farm Land for sale and to lease. A large lot of Timbere Lands, in this and adjoining county, for sale Abstracts of Title furnished. Taxes paid

CORRESPONDENCE SOLICITED J. A. SHERMAN. Room 3, Strobel Bld., Houghton, Mich

Mothers

Like to see their boys clothed in the latest and peatest styles.

Fathers

Like to see their boy becomingly clothed at the lowest possible

Both

Of these extremes mee in the most perfect manner in the Boys' Department of Rich-ardson's Clothing store, near the Post office Hancock.

R. B. TIME-TABLES.

Passenger Trains on M. R. R. R

m b m Lv Hed Jacket ... 5.30 5.40 10.10 51 12.15 5.00 ... Hed Jacket ... 5.30 5.40 10.10 51 12.27 5.12 Obsciola 5.18 2.28 9.58 52 1.05 5.50 Hancock 7.40 1.50 9.50 Hancock 7.40 1.50 9.50 m p m p m Ar Lv p m p m a m *Daily +Daily except Sunday.

Passenger Trains on H. & C. R. R

in Effect December 19 1895.

		-
	AT	p m	p m	a m
7.46 12.15 5.00 Lake Lin	čen	B. 20	2.30	9.55
48 10 17 # 00 T.INW(VO)	2000.70	8.18	2.28	9.58
7.50 12.2) 5.05 B L Linde	T	8.15	2 25	9.50
		8 10	2.20	9.45
	*	B 01	2.11	9.36
			2.08
8.07 12.37 5.22 Dollar B		4.00	1.50	0 18
8.25 12 55 5.40 Hancock	MARKET AND THE	1.30	1.40	4 75
5.40 1.10 5.56 Houghte	m
ampmpm Ar	147	p m	PIL	- m

*Daily. *Daily except Sunday.

Time Table:

In effect April 27, 1896. TRAINS LEAVE HOUGHTON

TRAINS ARRIVE HOUGHTON

From Marquette, Chicago and the Gogebic Range..... From Detroit and the east..... Daily. †Daily except Sunday.

For tickets, time tables and other information apply to J. H. FORD, Ticket Agt.

Map of

# Mt. Paul Hallroad.

LAKE SUPERIOR DIVISION

SOLID TRAINS FAST TIME PULLMAN BUFFET SLEEPING CARS. All coupon agents on the Northern Pen-tila sell tickets via the Milwaukee & North to B. R. Commaricial Agt. Republic, Mich BORGE H. HEAFFORD, Chicago.

David Lanctot, Portage Lake News

Athletes Are Training Hard for Decoration Day.

Negaunee Athletes Coming

Houghton Club Won the Base Ball Game Yesterday-Other Late

The Hancock driving park is the scene of lively training each evening by several members of the Y. M. C. A. track team. Several, however, is an indefinite term. and the training is confined to half a dozen individuals. Frank James is practicing a new position for starting, which he calculates will be of an appreciable part of a second to him. He has not run a full 100 yards yet this season at anything like his speed. James Murphy is out every evening taking several turns about the track, and as he is always in training it is safe to say he will be fit for the half mile. He has not approached his record yet this season for the high jump. Chub Crawford is going to enter the bicycle sprints, and is industriously practicing, though he has not yet received the wheel he intends to ride. Several Dollar Bay riders are at the track each pleas ant evening, and their crack rider training for the five-mile race. Tom Harris is said to be in better condition than ever this season and confident of not alowing any of the bicycle prizes going to Negaunee. The team from that city is now sure to come, and it without doubt. contains some good men, and the boys ere will have to put in more work this week than they have in the past there to be perfectly safe. The greatest danger

The ball game yesterday between the Houghton club and members fot the old Hancock nine, assisted by two players picked up on the grounds at the last moment, was an easy victory for the former by a score of 13 to 7. The old timers were disappointed in not being able to play three Calumet men whom they had at first reckoned on. Sullivan and Rentenbach was the battery for the yets and Healey and Haas for the Houghtons. The field was wet, which made fielding difficult and the ditch around the middle of the outfield did not help the men out there to any great extent. About 200 people saw the game.

from the Negaunee boys, it seems, is expected in the various jumps.

The Portage Lake wheelmen are disappointed that the weather spoiled the bicycle meet at Schumacher's Saturday evening and they hope that another date will be set by the Calumet riders soon. By making the date other than a Saturday evening more riders could get out and too, the wheelmen here hope to get the Calumet contingent to ride into town with them and make a parade of the streets of Hancock and Houghton.

Members of the Hancock high school are engaged in writing a prize story and poem. For the latter a fine copy of Byron's poetical works is offered as a prize, The story must contain not less than 500 or more than 1,000 words and the poem not less than 25 yerses. All productions must be handed to the judges before June 1. Some of the best efforts will be published.

"The Highlands of Scotland," one of the most popular of Rev. J. E. Reilly's illustrated lectures, will be given by him, next Friday evening, in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium, under the auspices and for the benefit of the Boys' Brigade, Co. A. The people of this section will know what a lecture by Mr. Reilly means, and that knowledge assures the boys a successfu evening.

The Mineral Range railroad company has immensely improved the appearance of the grounds about the general office by sodding them. The village might well take a pattern after this enterprise and tidy up the side of the hill about the principal entrance to the town.

The officers are of the opinion that the child whose body was found Friday morning near the Isle Royale dock was thrown from some boat passing through the Lake. A thorough search through this county fails to reveal any clue to the babe's origin.

The return leap year party, at St. Patrick's Hall, Friday evening, was well attended and a very enjoyable affair. The social slub boys well returned the cour tesies of their lady friends. The Twin City orchestra furnished the music for dancing.

The water tormerly used by the old At antic stamp mill has been again turned into its old course, Cole's creek restoring that stream to its old-time size. It is reported that there are lots of trout there this spring.

Ernest Boreman got into the meshes of the law Saturday and was arraigned before Justice Brand on charge of being drunk and disorderly. He was sent to jail for thirty days to sober off.

A full turnout of the members of E. R. Stiles Post, G. A. R., accompanied by the Excelsior band, attended divine service at Grace M. E. church, Houghton, yesterday morning.

The boys who went to Huron river Saturday night on the tug Margurite were rewarded for their bravery in daring a rainy cold night by a fine day's sport yesterday.

C. A. Wright's hardwood mill started on the season's cut today. The operations are in charge of Mr. Cook, who also had charge of the selecting and cutting of the timber.

Boat passages: Up-John M. Nicol, J. D. Marshall, George Farwell, Vander-bilt and City of Duluth. The light house tender, Amarauth, was in the lake Sat-

The assessment roll of Portage town hip may be seen again tomorrow at the office of the township clerk, when the board of review will be in session.

The junior class of the Houghton high chool are preparing for an entertainment, to be given at the Armory Opera House on the evening of June 3

The board of review of Hancock township will be in session at Clerk Finn's office again tomorrow to listen to obections to the assessment roll.

Slayton's Jubilee Singers will appear Wednesday evening at the Armory Opera House, under the auspices of the Houghton high school.

The Harmony club of Haughton will give the first moonlight excursion of the season next Friday evening on Croze's

The yacht Nenemosha is being fitted out for the season by her owners, the Sheldens, at her old anchorage near the June 12 is the date of the appearance, at the Armory Opera House, of Mattie Vickers and her company in "Jacquine." A big excursion of Austrians and Finns from Calumet went to the canal yester day, the first of the season. The Hancock grove will be formally opened to the public next Sunday afternoon and evening, May 31. William Carline is having a front put on his store building, which will give him three feet additional room Rev. and Mrs. W. C. Hicks arrived home Friday on the steamer China from Cleveland. Charles Ruelle, Jr., went to Chicagotoday to purchase horses.

Easy Lessons For Coin's Pupils. See the Bird. It is an Eagle, is it not? Yes, it is a Gold Eagle. Do men want these Eagles? Yes, they Hustle for them. Why do men want Gold Birds? Because they can buy many things with them.

Here is Another Bird. Is it A Local Yes, it is a Silver Loon. I so Highly Prized as the Eagle? No. Because i will not buy so many Things. Then i is a Cheap Bird, is it not? Well, rather. See The Man. He is a Work-ing-Man. He works because he wants Goods. If his work is measured in Eagles, he will get much Goods. If his Wages are paid in Loons, he will get little Goods.

Which Bird does he Prefer? Can Eagles fly? You bet they can fly If the Man makes a Free Coinage Law that Sixteen Loons shall be Worth One

Eagle, the Gold Birds will fly away Across the Sea. Will that Help the fan? No; it will make him Poor. Does the Man like to be Poor? Not much; he wants to get Rich. Then why does he listen to the Friends of the cheap Loons? Because he has not cut his Eye Teeth yet. Pretty Soon he will Tumble to the Silver Loon's Racket. Then, Goodby Loon.

An Honest Division.

The Detroit Free Press says that there is to be no dodging on the financial question by the Democratic presidential candidate. "The aspirant who now talks of a straddle might just as well draw in his boom and devote himself to his pri-vate business. Though there is a division in the ranks on this subject, it is an honest one, and the element that con-trols in the Chicago convention is going to know the views of the man placed in

May Stop Careless Voting

In the view of the Louisville Couries fournal it is "perhaps well enough that some of the sound money Democrati are becoming alarmed over the pros pects of the free silverites controlling the Chicago convention. It will arous them to their duty and cure them of their good natured habit of, while advocating sound money principles, voting for free silver men.

"I'd like to hear you play the violin, Mr. Tillinghast," said 7-year-old Tommy Dillingham, who was entertaining

"But I don't play the violin, Ton "Then papa must be mistaken. heard him tell mamma that you playe groud fiddle at home. "-Exchange. To Save Your Bacon.

"To save one's bacon" is a reminiscence of the Dunmow (litch, which for severe centuries was bestowed at Dunmow, i England, on married couples who coul make oath and prove that for a certal number of years they had lived togethe without a quarrel. It is said that during two centuries the flitch was claimed only

COME UP INTO THE MOUNTAINS.

Come up tate the mountains, come up into the bine!
Oh, friend down in the vailey, the way is clear for you!
The path in full of perils and devious, but your feet
May safely thread its windings and reach to my refreat.

The mountains, oh, the mountains: How all the ambient air Bends like a benediction and all the soul is prayer.

How blithely on this summit the echoing wind's refrain Invites us to the mountains, God's eminent domain.

Oh, soul below in valleys where aspir rise
No higher than the plunging of water fow:
that flies.
Come up into the mountains, come up into the blue!

Leave weary leagues behind you the lowland's mouner view. The autumn's rotting verdure, the sapless grasses browned;
Come where the snows are lilies that bloom
the whole year round.
Here in the subtle spirit of all these climbing

Man may schieve his dreaming and be the thing he wills!

—Joseph Dana Miller in Mursey's.

A FAIRY TALE.

A fisherman was living in a humble cabin with his wife Stora. One day aft-er having uselessly spent several hours on the river bank he suddenly pulled from the water an immense fish with gold scales and a gold crown on its head.

"Ah!" cried he. "Here's a fine catch. I will take it to the king. He will cer-tainly pay me generously for it." But the fish said: "Give me my liberty. I am an enchanted prince and can accom plish any wish you may express."

"All right," good naturedly replied the fisherman. "This is the first time I have ever heard a fish talk, and that in itself is proof of your claim."

Dropping the fish into the water, be returned to his cabin to tell the adven-ture to his wife. "What!" cried she. 'And from that fish, who no doubt has the power of a fairy, you demanded

"No." said the fisherman. "It did not occur to me. Anyway, what could I have asked for?"

"What!" she exclaimed. "When we are here in a miserable cabin! You might at least have asked for a cottage! Go back. He is under obligations to you. You saved his life. He can refuse you nothing.'

The meek and humble fisherman was not at all anxious to make the attempt, but finally giving way to his wife's determination he went to the water's edge and called: "Fish of gold! Royal

'Why do you call me?" asked the "Alas," replied the timid fisherman,

"I am obeying my wife, who does not always think as I do." "And what does she wish at present?" said the fish kindly.
"Ah," he replied sadly, "she is not atisfied with our small cabin and wishes larger one. "Very well. Return home and you will find your wish accomplished."

In fact, in place of the miserable cabin was a beautiful cottage. Store was sitting radiantly happy on a bench in front of the door. Taking her hus-band by the hand, she said, "Just come and see how beautiful it is!" There was a bedroom, with a comfortable bed, a kitchen with a complete assortment of cooking utensils, and near by a low court, from which came the cackle of geese and chickens. Then followed a garden full of vegetables and an orchard of fruit trees. "Is it not charming?"

"Yes, indeed," replied the astonished fisherman, and both heartily rejoiced in their good fortune. Fifteen days later Stora said to her husb thinking that we were too modest in making our wishes known. This cottage is too small, and there is not a single field joined to the garden. I should lik to have a beautiful country residence. "What folly!" cried her husband "What would we do with a country resi

"Make yourself easy. I know well of what benefit it would be to us. You have nothing to do but to again see you friend, the golden fish."

The poor fisherman, not being able t resist, went out with bowed head. "Why do you call me?" cried the

"Alas," replied the fisherman, "Come in obedience to my wife, whose wishes are not always in accord with "What does she want now?"

"She thinks she would like a beautiful country residence." "All right, Your wish is accomplish

The fisherman, thanking him, turne homeward. To his surprise, he found before him a large house with court, granaries and stables. His wife, waiting or him in her loveliest Sunday dress led him into their new home. Here wa the master's room and there a large on for the servants. The chimney was full of hams. Not far off was the milkhouse and near by a granary full of wheat. In the stable were many beautiful cows. There was a pigeon house on the roof of the shed, which was well filled with fat the shed, which was well filled with fat sheep, and a couple of storks were on the chimney. Around the house were gardens, fields and prairies. "Is this not a delightful place?" enthusiastically inquired Stora.

"Yes," replied the fisherman. "See that we live here in peace."

A few days passed, when one morning Stora said to her husband: "It is indeed a good thing to have a country house good thing to have a country house have a chateau and live as nobles do This is what you must demand of your

"No, indeed," said the fisherms 'Certainly not. I will not make this additional demand of him. He would be angry, and he would have good cause." "Oh, I beg of you," implored his wife, "go to him again. He will refuse you nothing. I cannot live in this farm house. If I stay here, I shall be ill. If I The apprehensive fisherman again obeyed, and the fish said to him, "Go.

obeyed, and the fish said to him, "Go. Your new wish is granted."

When he seturned home, what a wonderful change awaited him! In place of his rustic home he found a beautiful chateau with flag waving on the top of its lofty tower. A wide meas surrounded the high walls inclosing the domain, and on its drawbridge stood Stora in a silk gown with a gold chain about her neck. Taking her husband by the hand, she led him into their apartment. En-tering the large door, they passed from room to room completely and beautifutly furnished with soft carpets, superb hangings statuary and pictures On ev-ery side were domestics in livery. In the court stood a carriage with two beautiful horses, a coachman on the seat and a footman up behind. Near by was a garden full of flowers, a conservatory and an aviary.

"Ah," said Stora, with an air of triumph, "what do you think of all this? Is this not better than a country house!

Are you not content?" "Yes," replied the fisherman, "but for the love of all that's good, let us stay

A few days later Stora remarked to her husband: "I was on the tower today and was astonished and grieved to find how little land we have. It is not enough that you should be a lord. You must have a kingdom. You must be

"What extravagance!" cried the fish rman. "Never, never will I permit it. 'If you do not wish to be king," re ora in a resolute tone, "I nevertheless am determined to be queen, and I desire you to go and explain my wish to the friend, who is under so many obligations to you, to the powerful magi-

"No, indeed," reiterated the fisherman. "He has already been wonderfully generous with us. I do not wish to irriate and tire him. But the ambitious Stora insisted, beg-red and threatened and the poor fisher man again gave way to her inflexible will. The fish looked upon him in pity, saying sadly, "This time also the wish of your wife is granted." In place of the lordly chateau there was a grand palace with a magnificent facade and four imposing towers. A marble stairway covered with rich car pet led to the first floor, to the reception room where the ministers, generals and courtiers were congregated and where Stora sat on a golden throne, an ermine mantle about her and a crown of dia-monds on her head.

"Finally," said she enthusiastically to her husband, "here is a burst of fortune, here is power, here is happiness.
There is nothing more I could wish."
"God be praised," he fervently replied. A few moments later, with a grave air, she took him by the hand, dr him into the embrasure of a windov that she might talk to him unobserved and said to him, "I am well satisfied that I am a queen, am contented with the respect of my ministers and the tranquillity of my subjects, but some times the sun rises too late; sometime the moon is too late, and sometimes the wind whistles and blows in a manner that inconveniences me greatly. I wish to govern them according to my pleasure. The fairy fish can refuse you nothing. He must grant me this one addi tional favor. It will be the last.' The peaceful fisherman was stupefied He could not believe she spoke seriously But when she, in a resolute manner, repeated her demand he declared he would never take part in any such in nour or two on his sofa smoking and thinking. During the afternoon he gets in another spell of work before saunter-ing home along the Strand.—London Letter. But, alas, the poor man had not the courage to resist the headstrong will of his companion. After violent protesta tions he again acquiesced. He went in fear and trembling to perform his strange mission. This time the fish regarded him coldly and said to him in a formidable voice: "This is enough. Your wife is insane, and you are an imbecile. You will no longer have either chateau or lands. In pity I will give you back your ancient

As the fairy fish disappeared beneath the waters the fisherman turned homeward with bowed head to find his wife dressed in wretched rags and sitting upon the doorsill of their old cabin, lamenting their lost wealth. - Translated

This is not so improbable as it ma eem, but only people who live in tropi cal countries suffer in this way. The worm in question is a mere thread—one of the filaria-and looks like a very little piece of vermicelli, but when examined under a microscope it is seen to have a round head and a pointed tail.

It has been found in the eyes of Eu-ropeans who have lived on the Kongo and in similar countries. The eye bepomes more or less inflamed and swoller until the worm is either extracted or migrates of its own accord.

This migration is one of the peculiarities of the "loa," as it is sometimes called. It goes from one eye to the oth er, passing under the skin at the back of the nose. It will be seen in one eye for a day or two, then it will disappear but a few days later reappear in the oth

It does not always remain upon the surface, in the conjuctiva (its usual abode), but occasionally makes a tour of the whole of the organ of vision .-Strand Magazine.

Judges of the Olympic Cames

The hellanodese, or judges, were ten in number, selected by lot from the ten tribes of Elis. They entered upon their office ten months before the festival They were first schooled in the tradi-tions and regulations of the games, then studied the capacities of the ath-letes while they were still in training. They had to decide upon the qualifica-tions of the contestants, make up the programme of the games, supervise the preparation of the scene of contest, act as judges in the games, and distribute the prizes. It was a position of honor and distinction. They came to the contest clad in purple robes, and sat in a test clad in purple robes, and sat in a tribune opposite the finish of the races in the stadium or hippodreme. They seem to have subdivided the function of judging, but at least three were present to judge in every contest. Their decisions were usually final, but an appeal might be carried to the Olympic senate. They were assisted in the execution of their commands by a large and well organized body of police.—Professor Allan Marquand in Century.

"The difference," said Asbury Pep-pers, though no one had asked him, "the difference between a bicycle pump and an anti-prize fight law is that one is used to blow up the tires and the other is used to tie up the blowers."

Whereupon the serious boarder told him that he ought to go on the stage, or, if the stage were not available, to Costlicet Mile of Railroad.

The costlicet mile of railroad is a mile measured on the steel portion of the Forth bridge, Scotland. The length of this portion is 1 mile and 20 yards, and the cost of Highest of all in Leavening Power.- Latest U. S. Gov't Report.

ABSOLUTELY PURE

it is the point at which vessels would and protection during the continuance of a war. When you consider that in every second of time 20 tons of shipping go out or come into our home ports, and that, as a matter of fact, the stream is continuous and never ceases, and that the value of the sea borne trade of the British empire is calculated at £980,000,000, of which about £250,- 000,000 neither comes to nor goes from the United Kingdom, it seems difficult to exaggerate the value of the fortres of Gibraltar or to realize the congestion of British shipping which might seek its protection in war. It has at present no drydock. Its garrison consists of panies of engineers and three battalions of infantry. It is the meeting place of our Channel and Mediterranean squadrons. The roads do not afford safe anchorage in all winds, and an enemy could conceivably shell them if h mounted heavy guns on Spanish soil.— National Review.

Anthony Hope.

moderately quickly, especially when in-cident and dialogue flow freely. When he is sketching a character or describing scenery, his pen moves slower. About the latter, however, he does not trouble himself much. A rocky mountain, with forest, valleys and river, is generally sufficient. He lunches at his club or has a meal sent to him from a peighboring restaurant, afterward taking an easy time, usually spending an hour or two on his sofa smoking and Difficulties of Carnation Culture.

difficult problem of carnation culture

It demands exhaustive knowledge of the habits, requirements and diseases of the plant, unceasing watchfulnes and unremitting labor the year through

Even when all is done that seems pos liable to the exasperation of finding that particular varieties, upon which be may have based his most sanguine expectations, obstinately refuse to flourish under his care. Almost every carnation culturist knows varieties that he thing lacking in soil, water, air or offense at him or his surroundings and preferred death, or at least unproductive life, to endurance of the associa-

Kilkenny Cats.

German soldiers had a brutal sport, consisting of catching a couple of cats, ty-ing their tails together, throwing them across a clothesline and allowing then to tear one another to pieces. A Hussa the sport, becoming known to the offi-cers, was forbidden. One day the soldiers were surreptitionsly indulging in it in their barracks, when the step of the officer of the day was heard, and a

Hussar, hastily drawing his sword, slashed at the cats, cutting off their tails and releasing them. The mutilated creatures hastily vanished through the entered and demanded an explanation of the severed tails it was suavely explained to him that two cats had been fighting and had caten each other up, all but Actor Roberts and His Doctor.

"I am glad to find that you are better," said Mr. Arthur Roberts' doctor to that famous comedian upon paying him a professional visit one morning. "You followed my prescription, of

"Indeed I did not, doctor," retorted Arthur Roberts, "or I should have broken my neck."

"Broken your neck!" exclaimed the doctor in amazement.

"Yes," said Roberts, "for I threw your prescription out of the window."

—London Answers.

Causily Effective.

feel like the poet who wanted a lodge in some vast wilderness. I yearn for thetically, "it's an expensive taste to rratify. But you might start in by tak ing your advertisement out of the news papers."—Washington Star.

Improving.

"There," said the mother, "Don't you

And the little boy whose trousers had just been patched remarked as he sat down, "I think I sm on the mend."— Indianapolis Journal.

solitude and silence.

Sometimes," said the merchant, "I replied his friend sympe nearest window, and when the regiment was stationed in Kilkenny,

tion. -Scribner's

sible to merit success, the grower

Luck is not a reliable factor in the ADDITIONAL CALUMET NEWS Sibralter (Cont 1,000 miles from England) is of immense importance as being the great watch tower from which Johnson, the Engraver, Agults block. Good family wood at J. Vivian. Jr., &

For Pedro score cards and markers. and out of the Mediterranean sea Moreover, situated as it is near the flank go to the NEWs office. of our trade routes both to the Cape and to the West Indies and South America,

Co.: $4 a cord.

FOR SALE-Lot located on Main street, Laurium. Apply at News office or ad dress, E. L. M., care of News.

Smokers, if you have falled to find a cigar to suit you, try "Heimlich's Crown," the best in the market. One swallow does not make spring, but one swallow of One Minute Cough Cure brings relief. EAGLE DRUS STORE. Our lodge room can be rented for meetings on Saturday evenings.

Sivent Otson.

An Fatey piano $175; first-class in strument: bring $25 and take it. OATES, Auctioneer seven companies of artillery, four com-

Go to the City Bakery! r your fine pas tries. Angel food, fruit cake always on Cream puffs Fridays and Satur days.

A few bushel of choice seed potatoes for sale. Apply to John M. Messner, Pine

To LET-The store, and room behind, opposite Ryan's store, at present occupied by Richard James. Apply to Alex them, try 'em, like 'em. Equal to im-Eczema is a frightful affliction, but like all other skin diseases, it can be perma-

EAGLE DRUG STORE. The Rockford electric belt is meeting ine it and get references. Office over Grand Union tea store Red Jacket, Mich.

V. Arvonen, gold and silver smith and ngraver, late of Tiffany & Co., New York, has opened a store next door to Jacob Gartner's, on Fifth street, where he is prepared to do hand-made work and repairing with neatness and dispatch. Prices reasonable.

A. L. Wooster, a prominent citizen of Osseo, Mich., after suffering excruciatingnor anybody else can tell the reason why. Of course there must be somein a short time by using DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, an absolute cure for all skin diseases. More of this preparation is treatment which they require, but it seems as if they were capable of taking used than all others comb

The bread and cake of the Superio Bakery can be had at the followings cles: James Lisa's, Mrs. Hoskin's, Red Jacket; Martin Kuhn's, J. C. Lean's "To fight like Kilkenny cats" recalls Peter Olcem's, Calumet Village, and Weisenauer's, Guilbaul's, Lake Linden. A the hiring of Hessians to suppress the great insurrection in Ireland. These resh supply is left at these agencies

The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and posi-

Young mothers dread the summer nonths on account of the great mortality among children caused by bowel troses. Perfect safety may be assured those who keep on hand DeWitt's Colic and & Cholera cure, and administer it prompt y. For cramps, billous colic, dysent and diarrhose, it affords instant relief.

Mr. James Glanvule, having bought out the City dye works of George Eade, will have the same establishment in connectics with that of his former bus luces, enlarging pictures in crayon and water colors, etc., and desires to inform the public he is in a position to attend to all work that may be given to him in his line, and guarantees to give his patrons satisfaction.

Mutual Fire insurance company of Houghton and Keweenaw counties, ganised in 1890 according to the laws of the State of Michigan, will insure property of its mem ers. Have paid fire losses over $3,000 during its existence. The company paid back during the last year to sixty-two of its members of five years standing 68 per cent of their prem amounting to $3,502. Will pay back amounting to $3,002. Will pay back during this year on the same rate to thirty-six members of five years' stand-ing $1,447. On the first day of this year the company had 344 members, $297,-440 worth of property insured, and

$6,594. 11 in treasury. For further par-ticulars apply to the undersigned. JOHN BLOMQVIST, President, Office, 448 Pine street, upstairs, Rad

It is estimated by paper makers that the consumption of paper for books is only 6 per cent of the entire manufac-ture, the greater portion made being used in the f rm of wrapping paper or paper for the newspaper press.

Anthony Hope may be seen entering gloomy house in Buckingham street, Strand, every morning at 10 o'clock. Here all his writing is done. He Macdonald, on the premises. changes his coat for a smoking jacket lights a pipe and settles down with a laudable desire to work. If the spirit The Best We Have Insist on getting a "La Empresse" 10-cent cigar. All first-class dealers sell does not move him to write, however he glances through his letters, reads the papers or takes up the lifest novel till he is able to concentrate his thoughts on the work he intends to do. He writes > nently cured by applications of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. It never fails to cure

> Mrs. R. DeYoung, Middleburg, Iowa, writes: "I have used One Minute Cough Cure for six years, both for myself and children, and I consider it the quickest acting and most satisfactory Cough Cure I have ever used." EAGLE DRUG STORE.

> Silversmith and Engraver.

day, and the prices are as low as the low tively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price, 25 cents per box. For sale by D. T. Macdonald.